INTRODUCTION

Spirit of the Game

The essence of successful squash matches is fair competition. We cannot hope to encapsulate all the nuances of what is required to achieve fair competition in the By-laws of the game, nor can we hope to adjudicate with wisdom the many disputes that might arise if the spirit of fair competition is not an important part of our philosophy concerning participation in squash. In this light, we would strongly recommend that each club and player endorses practices and openly acknowledges the following principles:

The better player on the day should win – this has important implications for the referee’s interpretation and knowledge of the rules, impartiality and firm enforcement of the rules.

The officiating person has to be acknowledged by the participating players as a person rendering a service for which no payment is asked. To referee well, in a keenly contested match, even with fair-minded players, can be a daunting task. It would be a breach of the fair-competition philosophy to resort to intimidatory behavior to influence a decision.

The order in league sides should reflect, as accurately as possible, playing strength, which should also be reflected on clubs’ ladders.

There is indeed a very important spirit to this game of ours – which we need to cherish – as we do compete on the same side of the “net”

Dr Alan Colburn

(Past President of the Northerns Squash Federation)

5.5 Any player guilty of playing under a false name or false NSF number will lose their match 0-3 and the players below that player will forfeit their matches 0-3 to the opponents, with a further 2 (two) point penalty deducted from the team for that fixture for every transgressing player. NSA may determine further sanctions against the transgressing player.

6. SELECTION OF CLUB LEAGUE TEAMS

6.1 A club must fill its teams in order of strength of its players, according to the club ladder. The ladder must be made available to the NSA on request.

6.2 Players ranked in the top 20 on the South African National Rankings must play strictly according to the National Ranking order, i.e: A player ranked in the top 20 may not play below another player in his/her club who is ranked below him/her nationally.

6.3 The player positions in the club's most recent league fixtures are considered to be the club's most up to date ladder.

6.4 Fielding 2 teams in a league

In the case of a club fielding two teams in a league the order of both teams must be declared before the first match of the season. The declared players may only play in their originally declared teams.

6.4.1 Reserves may play for either side in a higher league which has two teams but once they have represented one of the higher teams, they must play a match for the lower league before playing for the other higher team.

6.5 Lady Players Playing in Men's League and Vice Versa

Lady players can play in the Men's league, on the same basis as men. Men are not allowed to play in the Ladies league.

Ladies may play for one club in the Ladies' league and for another club in the Men's league. She must be registered on the system under the club for which she plays Ladies' league and NSA must be informed in writing by the cut-off date for inter-club transfers, if she wishes to play in Men's league for another club.

6.6 Playing in Different League Teams

No player will be allowed to play for two (2) different men's- or ladies league teams during the same league round. Transgressing player/s will forfeit the second match played 0-3 to the opponent, all players below that player also lose their matches 0-3 and the team fielding the transgressing player(s) will be penalized by deducting 2 penalty points from the team for every transgressing player.

6.7 Movement of Players Up the Order

6.7.1 Players can move up the order according to ladder positions, to fill teams where other players aren't available to play.

6.7.2 A player may only leapfrog one other player that played in a league round for the club, in the next round, either up or down the order

6.7.3 The position of a player whose name was recorded to indicate a "No show" by that player, shall be deemed the position in which he/she actually played the last time and not the position recorded as a "No show", with regards to movement up and down the ladder.

6.8 Penalties when Playing in the Incorrect Order

6.8.1 Whenever a player plays out of position according to the by-laws, the player will forfeit the match 0-3 to the opponent and 2 penalty points will be deducted from the team total for every transgressing player.

PHS	KUN	CSI	PCC	GLE	HAD	TUK	UIT	CBT	IRE	CEN	ADE	SAR	PVR	COR	EER	AKA	SAB	KEN

6.8.2 Where an ineligible player plays in a higher position than his teammates, teammates under his position will also forfeit their matches 0-3.

6.9 Ladder Movement During Breaks in the Season

In the event of a 4 week or longer break between league fixtures, players may leapfrog more than one player. Changes to the ladder that will result in a player leapfrogging more than the allowed 1 player in the next round, must be sent to the NSA office before the next league fixture takes place.

6.10 Next Available Player Rule

6.10.1 In certain instances, clubs need to move players up or down from their positions the previous week, in order to fulfil a fixture. To avoid penalties being imposed due to breaching the by-laws with regards to playing out of position, a club may move players up or down by making use of the next available player.

6.10.2 This rule allows the club to ignore a player who may not play for a certain league side where such club has two sides in the same league, and also where a team already has two external players in it. The next available player will need to be a local player even if such player will leapfrog more than one player that played in the previous round, due to external player/s being between the next available local player and the team above. The following week, such player may also move back to his previous position without any penalty. (Refer to annexure H – next available player, for examples).

6.10.3 The next available player rule will also be applied where a team accommodates another team by allowing a player to play early in his/her normal position but by the scheduled date of the fixture they have players in higher positions not available. To avoid transgressing the leap-frog rule, the team may use the next available player in the higher position.

6.10.4 In order to avoid penalties, the team must record the early play in writing with the NSA before the match is played.
